WHO AM I?

We have about scraped the barrel, and being without any more biographies, we contribute the following: I was born in Augusta September 14, 1902, and attended the public schools here, the Richmond Academy, and the University of Georgia. I married Elizabeth Wallace, have one child, and live in Forest Hills. I can be counted on to express my opinion one way or the other, and in either event very emphatically.

WHO AM I?
Salutes to Our Members in the Service

It is a beautifully sunny fall day as I sit down to write these few lines. In the near background the flowers are still blooming. Over the horizon, beyond the foothills, the jagged but majestic peaks of the Rockies rise to the sky. There is just enough cloud cover to make it exhilarating. Yes, it is such a perfect day as can be found only in Western Canada. In general and President Don Rico in particular will please note this.

A perfect scene for this notebook hand for us to visualize the experiences of war which some of you are going through in "active service." We really, however, that it is your sacrifices which makes it possible for us to enjoy these beauties. We hope that each of you will visualize the chores of home surroundings and realize that they are waiting for your return.

Furthermore, do not want you to come back to a land "where every prospect pleases and only man is sick." We shall try to realize the responsibility that rests on us to help develop a wholesome citizenship which is in keeping with the Christian spirit of application, will make it worthy of the sacrifices which Nature has supplied.

Seed Wheat for Russia

A number of the Kansas Kiwanis clubs participated in a fund-raising campaign to purchase a large wheat order for the Russian people. This was a part of a national effort for the entire Union. The effort was launched to help the Russian people, and the United States government and Congress contributed funds to purchase and ship the wheat to Russia. The campaign was successful, and the wheat was delivered to the Russian people, who were in need of food due to the ongoing war.
