- Create reading programs

Kiwanis clubs sponsor Service Leadership Programs. These Kiwanis-family organizations allow kids and young adults to serve their communities and develop leadership skills. Led by students and guided by adults, Kiwanis youth programs include:

- Kiwanis Kids. For elementary school students, age 6–12. Also includes mentoring and recognition programs for kids who need extra encouragement:
  - Terrific Kids
  - Terrific Kids for the promotion of character development
  - Bring Up Grades for the support and rewarding of academic improvement

- Builders Club. For middle school and junior-high school students. The world’s biggest service and leadership program for students age 12–14.

- Key Club. For high school/secondary school students. The world’s oldest and largest service program for students age 15–18.

- Key Leader. A leadership program for high school/secondary school students—including a weekend event with workshops, discussions, and team-building activities.

- Circle K International. The world’s premier organization for collegiate and university community service and leadership development.

- Aktion Club. For adults with disabilities. With Aktion Club, members become capable leaders and give back through service.

Within each program, the benefits are a two-way street. Kiwanians invigorate their own spirit and sharpen their mentoring skills—while taking part in the development of young people in your community.

Come provide a good influence...and receive fresh inspiration.

Local passion. Global impact.

In 2010, Kiwanis International launched The Eliminate Project: Kiwanis eliminating maternal and neonatal tetanus. In partnership with UNICEF, Kiwanis’ global campaign for children will eliminate a disease that kills one baby every nine minutes. The organization is also working to raise US$110 million by the end of 2015. Kiwanis clubs are playing a part—with service projects and fundraising activities. It’s the kind of opportunity that enriches the Kiwanis experience. And it’s the kind of local focus that makes a world of difference.
